

Kenish Ward. The School was continued about five years with much success, numbering at times as high as seventy, the scholars coming from Belleville, Orange, Cranetown and Spacetown, even in the coldest weather. One of the scholars, still living, is able to repeat from memory the first two chapters of John's Gospel, which were there learned—no mean acquirement even in those days. After this there was no Colored Sunday school until 1862, when it was organized by Rev. Mr. Hyde, being discontinued during the winter months. Mr. Hyde having joined the Union army, he was succeeded by Mr. Goult, and he by Mr. Wight. In May, 1865, Mr. J. A. Davis, Jr., took charge of the School, and continued as its Superintendent nearly seven years, until January last.

New Jersey—40m.

EDUCATIONAL.—The County Board of Examiners at the examination held in the Public School building in Bloomfield, August 30th, granted certificates to the following candidates:

3d Grade—Miss Mary Gee, Orange; Miss Alice G. Hunt, Montclair; Thomas A. Little, Cedar Grove; Miss Mary E. McElroy, Bloomfield; Mrs. F. A. Pearson, Brookside; Miss Mary E. Quimby, East Orange. 2d Grade—Miss Sarah B. Snow, Belleville; Miss Susantha Wheeler, Bloomfield.

The fall term of the Drew Theological Seminary opened on Thursday, Sept. 19th, with about one hundred students. The school is in excellent condition.

PRES. ANDRUS and Prof. McNutt, of the Indiana Asbury University, were inaugurated at Greencastle, September 11th, with proper ceremonies. The address of Dr. Andrus was on the co-education of the sexes.

The Committee appointed by the Harvard College Overseers to consider and report on the admission of females to that institution, recommended that no action be taken on the subject at present.

Among forthcoming Historical Works of importance is a new History of New Jersey, from its earliest settlement to the present time, by Mr. John O. Raum, of Trenton. It will make a book of some eight hundred pages.

In the case of M. W. Bennett, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for damages for injuries sustained by the accident at the Newark Avenue crossing in November last, the jury has given a verdict of damages in the sum of $5,000, the full amount claimed.

NEW JERSEY CONGRESSMEN.—The nominations of both parties for members of Congress in New Jersey are now complete, and are as follows:

District.	Republican.	Greenback.
1.	John W. Hazleton.	Oscar A. Clute.
2.	Samuel A. Clark.	Samuel C. Forker.
3.	Amos Clark, Jr.	John H. Patterson.
4.	Frederick A. Potts.	Robert Hamilton.
5.	Wm. Walter Phelps.	Abram B. Woodruff.
6.	Marcus L. Ward.	John M. Randall.
7.	Isaac W. Souder.	Noah D. Taylor.

NEWARK gives 2,200 Republican majority on City ticket, and elects thirteen Republican Aldermen, and three Democrats.

FRANK THOMAS, an Italian, residing on Grand-street, Hoboken, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. His wound was dressed, and it was believed he would recover. Domestic trouble caused the act.

BISHOP SMITH, of Kentucky, Presiding Bishop in the Episcopal Church, has taken his home in Hoboken, N. J., as more convenient for the performance of his duties than Louisville.

EDWARD P. VOLLEN, an old resident of Philadelphia, died at Beverly, N. J., September 14th, at the age of 103 years. He was a tanner by trade. He was for eighty years a member of the Methodist Church.

HON. GARRETT DAVIS, U. S. Senator from Kentucky, died, Sunday, September 22d, in the 72d year of his age. He was elected U. S. Senator in 1861, and re-elected to that position in 1866.

A breach of promise suit has been instituted by Mary Frances Wade, against ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch, of Brooklyn. Damages are laid at $150,000.

MARRIAGES.

A marriage notice has been received, but having no responsible indorse, we cannot publish it.

DEATHS.

Oct. 11, Suddenly, WILLIAM PROBERT, infant son of Phoebe W. and Sarah J. Lyon, aged 1 year.

EPITAPH.
We've laid our baby down to sleep
In this sweet resting place,
No longer will its parents weep,
For Jesus will this jewel keep.
While gone from our embrace.

Oct. 13, MARION A., aged 5 years, and Oct. 15, EDGAR B., aged 3 years, children of Mr. J. Mhalon and Mary L. Walker.

Post Office, Bloomfield, N. J.

Office Open from 9:30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Money sent by Money Order without danger of loss to all parts of the United States, at the following rates:

On Orders not exceeding	$10	5 cents
Over $10, and not exceeding	30	10 "
" 30, and not exceeding	40	15 "
" 40, and not exceeding	50	20 "
" 50, and not exceeding	60	25 "

Mails close and arrive as follows:—

Time of Closing. Time of Arrival.

7 A. M., and 3 P. M. 8:45 A. M., and 5:45 P. M.

The Mails connect at Newark with the Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and through Southern, both Morning and Afternoon.

Foreign Mails close at 3 P. M. on the day previous to the sailing of the ship.

Stamped Envelopes and Newspapers are sold to the public.

The Post Office Department having provided perfect safety for the transmission of small sums of money, by Money Order or Registered Letters, it is hoped that persons having occasion to use the mails for remitting money, will avail themselves of the security thus offered.

Sept. 1st, 1872. HORACE DODD, P. M.

DR. FRANCIS LIEBER, Professor of Constitutional History and Political Science in Columbia Law School, died of heart disease October 2d, in his seventy-third year. He was born in Berlin in 1800, and came to the United States in 1827. He published the "Encyclopedia Americana" in thirteen volumes, between 1829 and 1833. He drew up the plan of instruction for Girard College in 1834. He was the author of numerous works on law and social science, was a prominent member of the Union League, and was an active promoter of the free trade movement.

INSTRUCTION IN MUSIC.

MISS FANNIE C. CARL, Teacher of INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC, Bloomfield, N. J. Terms, $10 per quarter. oct19 2t

MISS JOANNA B. HARVEY, (SOPRANO), PUPIL OF SIGNOR A. BARILL, Teacher of VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC, Bloomfield, N. J. oct19 2t

C. H. R. BRUETT, At Davis' Old Stand, Bloomfield Avenue, SELLS CHEAP FOR CASH.

Groceries and Provisions, WOODEN AND WILLOW-WARE, CROCKERY, Glassware and Yankee Notions.

Mr. Bruett being unable to write, in consequence of his early education having been neglected, he has not bought, and therefore will not open, any Account Books. This will lead him to ask his customers to bring the Cash along with them when they come to buy.

Alle Fruehling von Bloomfield find hiermit eingeladen zu sein, um examination und zu lauten. Ter Grue, felder fomm, rhaht ein Geidgenf. oct19 2t

P. VAST, M. D., French Physician and Surgeon, No. 39 BANK STREET, NEWARK, N. J. Office hours from 8 to 9 A. M.; 1 to 2, and 7 to 9 P. M. oct19 2t

FOR SALE. A Two-wheeled Open Baggy, one Rockaway, one Sleight, an Express Wagon, a few Farming Implements, a good family Horse, seven years old, perfectly kind, and an excellent roadster, with a natural seat of eight miles an hour. Two good cows; a suit of parlor furniture, &c., &c. Cause of sale, leaving the place. JOHN R. PEACOCK, Paterson Road, above W. S. Baldwin & Son's Store. oct5

TAX NOTICE. NOTICE is hereby given to all Tax-payers in the Township of Bloomfield, on the List of 1872, that said Taxes are due and payable before the 30th day of October next.

JOSEPH A. DAVIS, Jr., Collector. Bloomfield, Sept. 7, 1872. sept7 3t

LESSONS IN FRENCH. Mr. LOUIS ADAMS, who has had a long and successful experience in teaching the French Language and Literature, in Bloomfield and vicinity, and who is now residing in Newark, has a few hours each week, which he can give to pupils in Bloomfield. For further particulars, inquire of the Editors, or of Mr. ADAMS, at his Residence, No. 39 Bank Street, Newark. sept21 3t

JAMES HUGHES, SURVEYOR. Office: Masonic Hall, Railroad Avenue, BLOOMFIELD. sept17 12t

A. G. McCOMB, CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR. Office, No. 1 FRANKLIN ST., BLOOMFIELD. sept17 12t

JAMES ALBINSON, Carpenter and Builder, Myrtle Street, Near Watessing Depot, BLOOMFIELD, N. J. sept17 6t

ISAAC VAN WINKLE & SON, MASONS AND BUILDERS, MONTGOMERY STREET, BLOOMFIELD, N. J. sept17 6t

O. PRIDHAM, House, Sign, and Ornamental Painter, PAPER HANGER, Plain and Decorative KALSBOMMING. BLOOMFIELD, N. J. All Orders Promptly Attended to. sept17 6t

COREY & STEWART, Hats, Caps, Furs, and Straw Goods, 713 and 715 Broad St., Newark, N. J. oct5

LADIES AND CHILDREN'S ROUND HATS. Style, Durability and Economy. 713 and 715 Broad St., Newark, N. J. oct5

PELOUBET, PELTON & CO., MANUFACTURERS OF THE STANDARD ORGANS. These Organs contain every valuable improvement known, and have been awarded the highest Premiums, at the Fair of the American Institute, New York, and at numerous State and County Fairs. For further particulars, call at the Manufactories, or address: PELLOUBET, PELTON & CO., 841 Broadway, New York. sept17 12t

GEO. O. DUNCKLEE, PIANO FORTES. MANUFACTURED BY: Hazleton Bros., Webster, Wm. P. Emerson, Bradbury, S. T. Gordon. ORGANS AND MELODEONS, J. Estey & Co.'s, Burdett's, Taylor & Farley's, Peloubet, Pelton & Co.'s, Geo. A. Prince & Co.'s. SHEET MUSIC, AND MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, Etc. SUNDAY SCHOOL BOOKS. S. & Music Books of all kinds, by the dozen or hundred, at wholesale prices. Class Books, Roll Books, Condensed Records, Question Books, Catechisms, etc. Reward Cards and Tickets of every description. Books in packages. GEO. O. DUNCKLEE, sept17 12t 719 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

Bloomfield Flouring Mills. J. W. POTTER, MANUFACTURER OF Flour, Feed, Meal, &c., &c. AND DEALER IN GRAIN OF ALL KINDS. BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY. sept17 12t

B. C. BOGERT, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN FLOUR, FEED, MEAL AND GRAIN. (Choice Brands of Flour for Family use.) 102 Barclay Street, J. B. BOGERT. (Sept 1st) NEW YORK. Try the New Law Bookstore.

J. R. McDIVITT, LAW BOOKSELLER, 81 Nassau Street, NEW YORK. Between Baiten and John. Constantly on hand a full supply of Text Books and Reports, new and second hand, at the very lowest prices for cash. English Law Books furnished at the shortest notice. Also, Law Books bound. Second Hand Law Books Bought, Sold and Exchanged. sept17 12t

W. S. BALDWIN & SON, BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY, DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS, OIL CLOTHS, BOOTS, SHOES, GROCERIES, CROCKERY, HARDWARE, IRON, NAILS, GLASS, Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Family Medicines, DYE-STUFFS, PERFUMERY, AND NOTIONS GENERALLY. Coal and Wood at the Lowest Prices. sept17 12t

H. DODD, BROAD AVENUE, BLOOMFIELD, DEALER IN BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS. Prices as Low, Material and Work considered, as can be found in the County. Particular attention paid to Ordered Work. sept21 11t

JACOB SPEER, Manufacturer and Dealer in every variety of FIRST CLASS BOOTS AND SHOES, Near the Depot, RAILROAD AVENUE. sept17 12t

THOMAS J. HARRISON & CO., GENERAL HOUSE FURNISHERS, Near M. & E. R. R. 435 and 437 Broad Street, Newark, N. J. Their stock of goods is constantly increasing, and they are prepared to keep constantly on hand a large assortment of: Dining-room, Parlor, Bed Room and Kitchen Furniture, Lounges, Sevens, Tete-a-tetes, Benches, &c., China, Glass, Wood, Willow and Tin Ware. STAIR CARPETS, MATTING, OIL CLOTHS, MATTRESSES, &c., &c. 435 and 437 BROAD STREET. N. B.—We buy and sell cheap for Cash. Goods delivered at Bloomfield and vicinity. sept17 12t

DOUGLAS, SONS & CO., MANUFACTURERS OF FINE FURNITURE, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Wall Papers, Etc. PIANOS AND ORGANS, Sole Agents for the Mason and Hamlin Organs, sept17 6t 707 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

CARPETS! We have just received our New stock of BODY BRUSSELS, TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, THREE PLY and INGRAIN CARPETS. Of the Latest and Most Durable Patterns, OIL CLOTHS, MATTINGS, RUGS, HATS AND DRUGGETTING, In Large Variety. FURNITURE. PARLOR SUITS in Hair Cloth and Reps, Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood and Painted. BED-ROOM SUITS in large variety: Sofas, Tete-a-tetes, Lounges and Chairs, Marble and Wood-top Tables and Furniture of every description. Also a large stock of China, Crockery, Glassware and Cutlery, Featherbeds, Mattresses and Bedding. We make our Hair Mattresses on the premises. We invite purchasers to inspect our large and complete stock of House Furnishing Goods before purchasing. E. C. SMITH & CO., 100 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK. Nearly opp. Trinity Church. sept17 6t

FURNITURE & PIANOS MOVED WITH CARE, BY JAMES BERRY, Washington Ave., Bloomfield, N. J. All Orders promptly attended to. sept21 11t

CHAS. A. GILBERT, News Dealer and Stationer. Papers delivered in any part of Bloomfield and vicinity. CIRCULATING LIBRARY OF GOOD BOOKS. sept17 12t

ARCHDEACON'S HOTEL, Bloomfield Centre, Bloomfield, N. J. This Hotel was Established in 1809, and has been handsomely refitted. A first-class Restaurant connected with the Hotel. sept17 12t

REAL ESTATE. FOR SALE, IN BLOOMFIELD, one of the most desirable residences. House is new, thoroughly well-built and complete in all its appointments. Lot is large, equal to seven city lots; elevated, overlooking the village; in the best neighborhood, surrounded by first-class improvements; easily accessible, within five minutes' walk of depot. Will be sold low. Apply to THOMPSON & CO., 208 Broadway, New York. Oct 19

Os to Wm. P. Lyon, Adjoining the premises. oct19

FOR SALE. The BROWER MILL PROPERTY, at RIDGEWOOD DEPOT. Apply to S. A. BROWER, Bloomfield, or to THOMPSON & CO., 208 Broadway, N. Y. sept17 6t

FOR SALE. NEAT LITTLE COTTAGES will be built of any size to suit purchasers, and will be sold on Monthly payments. Plans and Lots may be selected by consulting the owner, ROBERT FEELE, sept21 Cor. Linden & Midland Ave. Bloomfield.

THOMPSON & CO., REAL ESTATE, 208 Broadway, Cor. Fulton St., New York. Bloomfield Real Estate a Specialty.

For sale, in Bloomfield, N. J., several very fine new houses, with ample grounds, eligible locality, and all modern improvements. Also smaller properties, and a number of choice lots. THOMPSON & CO., 208 Broadway, N. Y. sept17 12t

HORACE PIERSON, REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENCY, BLOOMFIELD, NEW JERSEY. Estates, Business Premises, Residences, Building Lots, and Farms to cut up in Villa Plots for Speculative Purposes. Now on hand and offered on money-making and accommodating terms.

The above begs leave to announce to the public that he has opened an office in Bloomfield, adjoining Archdeacon's Hotel, for the Sale and Exchange of Real Estate, Renting Houses, and the Collection of Rents, and procuring Fire Insurance in first-class and responsible companies. sept17 12t

PHILIP WEAVER, Real Estate Agent & Auctioneer, RAILROAD AVENUE, Bloomfield, N. J. sept17 12t

REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENCY, Watessing Depot. Houses and Lots for Sale and Houses to Let. News Dealer, Daily and Weekly Papers Delivered to all parts of Watessing and vicinity. sept17 12t

WILLIAM NIEDERHAUSER, Confectionery, Ice Cream and Oyster Saloon, BROAD STREET, Opposite Post Office, BLOOMFIELD, N. J. Parties supplied with Ice Cream, Icos, Fancy Cakes, etc. sept17 12t

THOS. T. CADMUS, BAKERY, CONFECTIONERY, AND ICE CREAM SALOON, sept17-12t Bloomfield Centre, Bloomfield, N. J.

MRS. H. LONG, MILLINER, 649 BROAD STREET, Newark, N. J. A great variety of Ladies' Hats very cheap. Feathers and Flowers of all descriptions. Hoop Skirts made to Order. sept17 6t

ALFRED S. CADMUS, DEALER IN FINE Stationery and Fancy Goods, Monograms, Initial Stamping, etc., to order. Printing and Bookbinding executed promptly, and at lowest rates. WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS, PERIODICALS, etc., on hand. BROAD AVENUE, Opposite P. O., Bloomfield. sept17 12t

QUADRILLE MUSIC Parties, Balls, Weddings and Receptions. PHILIP J. LAWRENCE, TUNER AND REPAIRER. Orders may be left at his residence, WATESSING, N. J. oct5

MISS SHIBLEY'S SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, DELAWARE AVENUE, BLOOMFIELD. The courses of study are suited to the wants of the pupils, and are extensive and thorough. Particular attention given to the Languages, Penmanship, Drawing and Music, also daily exercises in Gymnastics. There is a Primary Class connected with the school. sept17 6t

MISS MICHELL & MRS. KNEVITT'S ENGLISH & FRENCH DAY SCHOOL, 2 WASHINGTON AVENUE, BLOOMFIELD, N. J. WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 23, 1872. Miss Michell having had many years experience in teaching, and having just closed a seven years' connection with Edgewood School, Mt. Vernon Place, Baltimore, Md., hopes for the confidence of parents in this new enterprise. sept17 6t

Climate of San Francisco. It is not enough an I changeable enough in the interior, but San Francisco seems to have a climate exclusively its own. What would not the poor wretched and blasted New Yorkers have given in August for a few days of such weather as they had here all the time, at a temperature of sixty-five to sixty-eight? Light overcasts are in almost daily demand. Furs are worn almost the year round by some ladies, and not more than in February than in August. Umbrellas are not needed from April to October. The sun may rise cloudy and cold, and in New York or Boston every one would predict rain, but not so here. And when the rains come, between October and April, it is not with violence or lightning, no thunder, no tornadoes—but only frequent showers. That is the rainy season.

Mountain to compare with Colorado, or, for that matter, with any Western territory. The main height of the Alps is from 8,000 to 9,000 feet above the sea. The main height of the Rocky Mountains is from 10,000 to 12,000 feet. This is the mean height of the immense continuous sweep of the Cordillera de la Sierra Madre. It is probable that the average height in Colorado, which is the table-land of the continent, will approach very nearly to 12,000 feet.

The Great Beauty of Japanese Scenery. My first sight of Japan was from the deck of the steamer Great Republic, as we sailed up the Bay of Yokohama. The aspect of the country at once charmed us, and this spell never for a moment lost its power, but rather increased in joy, and now remains a vision fair and beautiful in the mind forever.

The mountain-tops were somewhat bare, but embosomed in the numerous cliffs were woods and temples; and farther down, peaks and crags of every variety, all covered with luxuriant vegetation. Far in the distance, between Java and Sumatra, a strange sight—a mighty cone, fourteen thousand feet high, with its apex above the clouds, covered with snow down to a clear, well-defined line, where there was a dark belt, and then the body of the mountain disappeared; so that the whole thing looked like a white triangle resting in the firmament, or like some great white triangular guardian deity, silently, solemnly, but conspicuously watching over the scene.

Our sail through the inland sea was positively absorbing; headland after headland, islands of all sizes and of every description of contour, situated in all directions, and then the perpetual recurrence of village after village, Daijio's residences, and all the diversity of hill and dale, high cultivation, and the richness of nature, absolutely chained us to the deck. I have never seen any scenery to match it. The Straits of Anjer, between Java and Sumatra, the Golo passage, the Straits of Singapore, and many others I have sailed through are not for a moment to be compared to it. The harbor of Nagasaki may be said to crown the whole. The entrance on a fine evening is like fairy-land. I have seen no port in the East equal to it for beauty.—Rev. Dr. Williamson.

An Important Occasion. The Evangelical Alliance will hold its next session (1873) in New York. It was to have been held there in 1870, but the Franco-Prussian war made its postponement necessary, in order to accommodate the German and French members.

Dr. Schaff has been making arrangements with representative Protestant men of Europe to be present, and it is believed that the session will bring together a greater array of European religious notabilities than has ever been seen in our country, including not a few who are dear to American theologians and scholars.

While it will thus afford special interest to our own countrymen, it will probably be still more interesting to the foreign delegates themselves. They will witness the peculiar development of religious and political life going on here, so unlike anything in most of Europe, and so problematic to European thinkers, especially religious thinkers. They will find that "the voluntary principle" keeps up an energetic, popular, religious spirit here, which is unknown within the European State churches. They will learn that the voluntary liberality of the people gives better sustenance to the clergy than their own national establishments afford, and that the foreign propagation of the common faith, by missions, is more seasonably maintained by our people than by any other—England, perhaps, alone excepted.

The rapidity of intercommunication throughout the land will afford these delegates the means of seeing, somewhat, the magnitude of the great territorial heritage which God has given us, and we hope that the New York committee will make thorough preparations for their cheap, or gratuitous, conveyance over the country, even across the continent to the Pacific. It will be an impressive fact for these European scholars and Christians to discover here a land several millions of square miles larger than all Europe, under one government, one flag, with one language, and pre-eminently Protestant in its religion. They will return to their homes with deepened interest for us, and better hopes for religion and liberty throughout the world.—Exchange.

False Eyes. A French paper gives a detailed account of the manufacture of false eyes in Paris, from which the curious fact appears that the average sale per week of eyes intended for the human head amounts to 400. One of the leading dealers in this article carries on the business in a saloon of great magnificence. His servant has but one eye, and the effect of any of the eyes desired by customers is conveniently tried in this servant's head; so that the customer can judge very readily as to the appearance it will produce in his own head. The charge is about $10 per eye. For the poor, there are second-hand visual organs which have been worn for a time, and exchanged for new ones; they are sold at reduced prices, and quantities are sent off to India and the Sandwich Islands.

It is not enough an I changeable enough in the interior, but San Francisco seems to have a climate exclusively its own. What would not the poor wretched and blasted New Yorkers have given in August for a few days of such weather as they had here all the time, at a temperature of sixty-five to sixty-eight? Light overcasts are in almost daily demand. Furs are worn almost the year round by some ladies, and not more than in February than in August. Umbrellas are not needed from April to October. The sun may rise cloudy and cold, and in New York or Boston every one would predict rain, but not so here. And when the rains come, between October and April, it is not with violence or lightning, no thunder, no tornadoes—but only frequent showers. That is the rainy season.

Mountain to compare with Colorado, or, for that matter, with any Western territory. The main height of the Alps is from 8,000 to 9,000 feet above the sea. The main height of the Rocky Mountains is from 10,000 to 12,000 feet. This is the mean height of the immense continuous sweep of the Cordillera de la Sierra Madre. It is probable that the average height in Colorado, which is the table-land of the continent, will approach very nearly to 12,000 feet.

The Great Beauty of Japanese Scenery. My first sight of Japan was from the deck of the steamer Great Republic, as we sailed up the Bay of Yokohama. The aspect of the country at once charmed us, and this spell never for a moment lost its power, but rather increased in joy, and now remains a vision fair and beautiful in the mind forever.

The mountain-tops were somewhat bare, but embosomed in the numerous cliffs were woods and temples; and farther down, peaks and crags of every variety, all covered with luxuriant vegetation. Far in the distance, between Java and Sumatra, a strange sight—a mighty cone, fourteen thousand feet high, with its apex above the clouds, covered with snow down to a clear, well-defined line, where there was a dark belt, and then the body of the mountain disappeared; so that the whole thing looked like a white triangle resting in the firmament, or like some great white triangular guardian deity, silently, solemnly, but conspicuously watching over the scene.

Our sail through the inland sea was positively absorbing; headland after headland, islands of all sizes and of every description of contour, situated in all directions, and then the perpetual recurrence of village after village, Daijio's residences, and all the diversity of hill and dale, high cultivation, and the richness of nature, absolutely chained us to the deck. I have never seen any scenery to match it. The Straits of Anjer, between Java and Sumatra, the Golo passage, the Straits of Singapore, and many others I have sailed through are not for a moment to be compared to it. The harbor of Nagasaki may be said to crown the whole. The entrance on a fine evening is like fairy-land. I have seen no port in the East equal to it for beauty.—Rev. Dr. Williamson.

An Important Occasion. The Evangelical Alliance will hold its next session (1873) in New York. It was to have been held there in 1870, but the Franco-Prussian war made its postponement necessary, in order to accommodate the German and French members.

Dr. Schaff has been making arrangements with representative Protestant men of Europe to be present, and it is believed that the session will bring together a greater array of European religious notabilities than has ever been seen in our country, including not a few who are dear to American theologians and scholars.

While it will thus afford special interest to our own countrymen, it will probably be still more interesting to the foreign delegates themselves. They will witness the peculiar development of religious and political life going on here, so unlike anything in most of Europe, and so problematic to European thinkers, especially religious thinkers. They will find that "the voluntary principle" keeps up an energetic, popular, religious spirit here, which is unknown within the European State churches. They will learn that the voluntary liberality of the people gives better sustenance to the clergy than their own national establishments afford, and that the foreign propagation of the common faith, by missions, is more seasonably maintained by our people than by any other—England, perhaps, alone excepted.

The rapidity of intercommunication throughout the land will afford these delegates the means of seeing, somewhat, the magnitude of the great territorial heritage which God has given us, and we hope that the New York committee will make thorough preparations for their cheap, or gratuitous, conveyance over the country, even across the continent to the Pacific. It will be an impressive fact for these European scholars and Christians to discover here a land several millions of square miles larger than all Europe, under one government, one flag, with one language, and pre-eminently Protestant in its religion. They will return to their homes with deepened interest for us, and better hopes for religion and liberty throughout the world.—Exchange.

False Eyes. A French paper gives a detailed account of the manufacture of false eyes in Paris, from which the curious fact appears that the average sale per week of eyes intended for the human head amounts to 400. One of the leading dealers in this article carries on the business in a saloon of great magnificence. His servant has but one eye, and the effect of any of the eyes desired by customers is conveniently tried in this servant's head; so that the customer can judge very readily as to the appearance it will produce in his own head. The charge is about $10 per eye. For the poor, there are second-hand visual organs which have been worn for a time, and exchanged for new ones; they are sold at reduced prices, and quantities are sent off to India and the Sandwich Islands.

It is not enough an I changeable enough in the interior, but San Francisco seems to have a climate exclusively its own. What would not the poor wretched and blasted New Yorkers have given in August for a few days of such weather as they had here all the time, at a temperature of sixty-five to sixty-eight? Light overcasts are in almost daily demand. Furs are worn almost the year round by some ladies, and not more than in February than in August. Umbrellas are not needed from April to October. The sun may rise cloudy and cold, and in New York or Boston every one would predict rain, but not so here. And when the rains come, between October and April, it is not with violence or lightning, no thunder, no tornadoes—but only frequent showers. That is the rainy season.

Mountain to compare with Colorado, or, for that matter, with any Western territory. The main height of the Alps is from 8,000 to 9,000 feet above the sea. The main height of the Rocky Mountains is from 10,000 to 12,000 feet. This is the mean height of the immense continuous sweep of the Cordillera de la Sierra Madre. It is probable that the average height in Colorado, which is the table-land of the continent, will approach very nearly to 12,000 feet.

The Great Beauty of Japanese Scenery. My first sight of Japan was from the deck of the steamer Great Republic, as we sailed up the Bay of Yokohama. The aspect of the country at once charmed us, and this spell never for a moment lost its power, but rather increased in joy, and now remains a vision fair and beautiful in the mind forever.

The mountain-tops were somewhat bare, but embosomed in the numerous cliffs were woods and temples; and farther down, peaks and crags of every variety, all covered with luxuriant vegetation. Far in the distance, between Java and Sumatra, a strange sight—a mighty cone, fourteen thousand feet high, with its apex above the clouds, covered with snow down to a clear, well-defined line, where there was a dark belt, and then the body of the mountain disappeared; so that the whole thing looked like a white triangle resting in the firmament, or like some great white triangular guardian deity, silently, solemnly, but conspicuously watching over the scene.

Our sail through the inland sea was positively absorbing; headland after headland, islands of all sizes and of every description of contour, situated in all directions, and then the perpetual recurrence of village after village, Daijio's residences, and all the diversity of hill and dale, high cultivation, and the richness of nature, absolutely chained us to the deck. I have never seen any scenery to match it. The Straits of Anjer, between Java and Sumatra, the Golo passage, the Straits of Singapore, and many others I have sailed through are not for a moment to be compared to it. The harbor of Nagasaki may be said to crown the whole. The entrance on a fine evening is like fairy-land. I have seen no port in the East equal to it for beauty.—Rev. Dr. Williamson.

An Important Occasion.